Reviewer A:

This paper uses a lot of expressions that are nuanced in Indonesian, so that it feels weird for English-speaking readers. It also inconsistently uses of words or concepts. So, proofreading must be done.

This paper is very good at revealing social changes among Madurese through the representation of the pesantren world. Cultural transformation, especially the dynamic of intellectualism in the pesantren, is always interesting, but this is required to be seen from the perspective of the cultural theories and perspectives of social change, rather than using the theory of educational management.

Using the phrases/concepts "pesantren Communities" or "several pesantren" requires this study to conduct a comprehensive exploration on teaching and learning activities in "several" pesantren (at least two pesantren in Madura in term of different backgrounds). The author may apply a comparative study to enrich the data and

The author may apply a comparative study to enrich the data and analysis, explosively sounding the dynamic transformation and modernization in pesantren institutions in Madura. Aiming to representing a culture of learning or education in an entire community or Muslim society such as Madura, the author may explore two or more similar pesantrens or pesantrens with different locus backgrounds in Madura.
